

The Royal Borough of Windsor and Maidenhead Post-16 Home to School Transport Policy 2020-2021 Supporting Statement

Introduction

To view the Home to School Transport policy in full and use the active links please go on-line at: <https://www.rbwm.gov.uk/home/schools-and-education/school-transport>

The 2020/21 post-16 home to school transport policy is set out in full on pages 15-23 in our main home to school transport policy document. In brief, there is no free home to school (or college) transport for young people aged over 16 unless:

- they are aged 16 to 18 years old, and
- attend the nearest appropriate school or college, and
- are from a low income family, and
- have a special educational need that means they can't walk or use public transport to get there.

All young people carrying on their education post 16 must reapply annually for travel support.

Local authorities also have a duty to encourage, enable and assist young people with learning difficulties / disabilities to participate in education and training, up to the age of 25. This policy statement uses the term 'Post 16' to include both learners of sixth form age and those with learning difficulties / disabilities up to the age of 25.

For full details about eligibility please see the policy document. The policy also includes information about what type of assistance may be offered, how it operates on a day to day basis, how to make an application and how to make an appeal against a decision not to provide assistance with transport. Concessionary fare paying seats

The concessionary fare paying scheme allows young people to buy a pass for a spare seat on an operating Royal Borough home to school transport route, when they are not eligible for free home to school transport. This is available for young people in post-16 education. More details about this can be found on pages 32 to 34 of the home to school transport policy document.

The list of routes that currently have spare seats for 2020/21 is published on the School Transport Application Webpages

Cost of concessionary fare paying seats

The cost of concessionary fare paying seats for applicants is set out in the Royal Borough's Fees and Charges document. This is updated by the full Council annually, and the charges for the 2020/21 academic year have now been set:

- Annual concessionary ticket for Royal Borough resident £639
- Annual concessionary ticket for non-Royal Borough resident £893
- Annual concessionary ticket for the M10 and M11 Eton Wick to Windsor service £336

The average actual cost to the local authority of a concessionary fare paying seat for a school year is:

- For children without SEN £1,110
- For children with SEN £6,201

The cost of the concessionary seats will be waived for children and young people from low income families that are resident within the Royal Borough.

Withdrawal of concessionary fare paying seats

The Royal Borough reserves the right to withdraw a concessionary seat if the place should be needed for an entitled child.

National free bus passes for disabled people

Free bus passes are available, nationally, to all disabled people (including students) who meet the criteria, as set out on page 22 of the home to school transport policy document. An additional Companion pass is also available for those who cannot travel unaccompanied. Residents of the Royal Borough of Windsor and Maidenhead have an additional concession whereby they can travel at any time to suit their school or college timetable. Further information on how to apply for a national bus pass can be found on the Concessionary Fares Webpages

School/College support:

16 to 19 Bursaries

Young people in education or training can apply for a bursary from their school, college or institution for financial support to help them remain in education. There are two types of bursary:

- A vulnerable person's bursary, which is worth up to £1,200 per year and available to young people in specific vulnerable groups (2020/21 bursary amount still to be confirmed at time of publication).
- A discretionary bursary that schools, colleges and institutions award to meet individual needs, including help with the cost of transport, meals, books and equipment.

The government decides how these work, and you can find their latest guidance on their website. Applications for both types of bursary are made through schools, colleges and institutions. We have provided links to school and college websites below.

Concessionary transport provided by schools and colleges

Schools and colleges may provide their own assistance with home to school transport. This includes:

- Desborough College and Newlands Girls' School operate a minibus that travels between the two schools on Tuesdays and Thursdays, allowing pupils to attend lessons at the other school campus, as part of their 'consortium' arrangements.
- The Windsor Boys' School and Windsor Girls' School are currently planning to operate minibuses in 2018/19, which will allow pupils to attend lessons at the other school campus.
- Churchmead School currently runs transport for pupils who also take courses at the Windsor campus for Windsor Forest College Group (formerly East Berks College).

In all cases you should contact the school direct for more information.

There are a number of further education colleges serving the area, and you can find information about their bursary schemes and any transport they offer at the links below. Transport Decisions

Decisions in relation to home to school transport are taken by Royal Borough officers with authorisation to do so. This includes decisions on:

- Eligibility for free home to school transport or assistance with home to school transport.
- The type of transport offered (e.g. bus pass, place on a minibus or taxi).
- Any other practical matters of transport assistance.

Parents/carers and young people can challenge these decisions informally, by contacting the School Transport Team on 01628 683800 or at transport@achievingforchildren.org.uk.

Alternatively, a formal appeal against a decision can be made.

Home to school transport appeals process

What decisions can be challenged through the appeals process?

Appeals can be made against decisions by the Royal Borough in relation to:

- Eligibility for home to school transport.
- The home to school distance measurement.
- The safety of the route.
- The transport arrangements offered.

The 2020/21 post-16 home to school transport appeals process is set out in full on pages 54-57 in our main home to school transport policy document. In brief, the Appeal Process is comprised of two stages:

- Appeal stage 1: review by a senior officer:
Parents/carers have 20 working days from receipt of the Royal Borough's decision to make a written request with detail of why the decision should be reviewed by the School Transport Team. The request can be emailed to transport@achievingforchildren.org.uk. A senior officer will review the original decision within 20 working days of the receipt of the written request;
- Appeal stage 2: review by an independent appeal panel
If parents/carers are still unhappy with the decision made the matter can be escalated to stage 2, where an independent panel will consider written and verbal representations from both the appellant and the Royal Borough. To ensure the panel has all the relevant information to review the case, parents/carers should complete the home to school transport appeal form, available on the Royal Borough's website at:

<https://www.rbwm.gov.uk/home/schools-and-education/school-transport/school-transport-appeals>

The form can be emailed to democratic.services@rbwm.gov.uk. If you do not have access to the online forms, please contact democratic services on 01688 796529 or at the email above.

Following the appeal hearing, a detailed written notification of the outcome will be sent to the parents/carers/young person, setting out:

- The decision reached.

- How the review was carried out, including any standard followed, e.g. Road Safety GB guidance.
- What factors were considered.
- The reasons for the decision reached.
- Information about how the parents/carers/young person can complain to the Secretary of State.
