No	No - I believe the current local government arrangements via RBWM are cost	No	Continue with the current governance arrangements via the RBWM council		No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient	I do not believe there is a need for an additional layer of local government in Windsor. RBWM is a small local authority and I	I cannot believe that in the current climate we are seriously considering creating a local Town Council at a
Don't Know	What will actually change? Can we trust those elected? Will we benefit as residents?	Yes		In principle yes. As I think Maidenhead is getting investment disproportionately.	Don't Know	Again there is reference to allotments, but not much else.	Actually state what changes and what the costs are to us.

No	I feel the current RBWM serves my needs and don't feel the extra expenses and bureaucracy is	No			No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient
No	As per your flyer, RBWM is still the Authority, and so this is a needless additional layer	No	windsor Town Council as an idea would be useful only if it is empowered. If this could be achieved then that would be more agreeable as Windsor's		No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient	Mandate without Authority would be frustrating from all parties. The elected officials would be	it seems strange that one of the most important towns in the Country does not have self governance. I think
No	The use of the archaic FPTP electoral system would mean it would be unrepresentative	No	Remain as is. Or consider electing the town council under a more representative electoral method so the whole range of views		No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient	Adding in another layer of bureaucracy at a cost should have tangible and measurable benefits. This has none stated
No	The powers assigned to any proposed council appear very limited. This would need to be as far as I can tell	No	We already vote for local councillors who work on behalf of our specific areas. More people are not necessarily required		No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient	Additional layers of governance may only complicate and slow down decision-making in systems that can already	At a time when we are seeing separatism and isolationism nationally, any further siloing is not something I
No	they wont have much authority , it will cost more in council tax and I am	No	Why change it if it works		No, I believe the existing arrangements are sufficient	They wont have any other authority just a waste of money for offices and extra staff
No	it is a complete waste of public money creating another layer of bureaucracy	No	None - it is a pointless waste of time and residents money.
